

Prayer Co-ordinator's Role

Here are some suggestions for the prayer co-ordinator's role. But the precise job activities will depend on what plans for prayer are actually adopted.

- Maintain a personal prayer life.
- Work with the Project Co-ordinator to plan the prayer backing for the project.
- Meet with the project leadership team to plan and organise the project as a whole.
- Participate in the pilot project in order to gain an understanding of the particular prayer needs associated with this initiative.
- Obtain prayer resources as necessary to help stimulate and foster prayer in a variety of ways.
- Prepare and issue regular prayer bulletins for church members, giving specific topics for prayer as the project plans progress.
- Work with the church leader in ensuring that prayer for the project features strongly in church services and other times when church members gather for prayer.
- Encourage small-group leaders in the church to make prayer for the project a priority within their groups.
- Keep the church leadership informed of urgent needs for prayer.
- Organise and lead a prayer-walk around the area selected for the DVD offer.
- Assist church members in forming prayer triplets.
- Organise a prayer chain, particularly around the times of the DVD offer and questionnaire visits.
- Organise a central prayer group to pray whilst the visitors are offering the DVDs and taking the Questionnaires.
- Create a letter to go to DVD sponsors informing them of the take-up of their sponsored DVDs and encouraging them to pray for those who accepted them.
- Ensure that prayer continues after the Questionnaire visits for those who have been contacted through the project.
